MALVIRA'
azienda agricola

Malvira began production in the 1950s in the Roero under the guidance of Giuseppe Damonte. Giuseppe was a visionary, understanding that in the 1950's, the Roero had not yet maximized its vineyard and thus grape-growing potential. Today the estate is run by Massimo and Roberto Damonte, Giuseppe's sons, who inherited their father's passion for winemaking. This is evident in their old vine Barbera from the "San Michele" vineyard which exhibits a great balance of deep fruit and acidity as well as a touch of Earth and fall spice.
